During the month of January 1951, Yugoslav military personnel made preparations to mine the reservoirs and aqueducts in Zone B, Free Territory of Trieste and the Istrian area immediately south. Holes for explosives have been dug in the reservoir and aqueduct of Risano (Rizana), which supplies water for Kopar (Koper), Isola (Izola) and Priano (Prian), and also in the reservoir and aqueduct at San Giovanni di Pinguente (Buzet) on the Quieto (Mirna) River which supplies water for Buie (Buje), Parenzo (Porec) and the central part of Istria. As yet, no explosives have been inserted. Much of the work is being done by engineer detachments from Kopar and Pola (Pulj).
